It is said that about twenty couples were present, and the sport was kept up until four o'clock in the morning. Those who took part were exceedingly quiet and civil, and the affair passed off very pleasantly for the "unfortunates."

The Arab's Celebration To-night.

The Arab fire company will celebrate the anniversary of the organization of their company at Phillips' hall this evening. A delicious supper will be spread, and an excellent string band will furnish music for those who want to dance. In fact every conceivable preliminary necessary to the success of the celebration has been completed, and a glorious time will be had. Everybody ought to go.

Your Name, Please.

We have on our table a communication from some one signing himself or herself "Coward," inquiring why the school question, which was so warmly argued by "Citizen" and other contributors a week or so ago, through the columns of this paper, has been allowed to die out. The writer of the communication speaks very plainly in the article, but we cannot publish it unless the correct name of its author is laid before us.

Wanted Assistance.

Ann Grindley, a poor negro woman, made her appearance at Judge Brown's office yesterday morning, and stated that she was in a destitute condition, and needed assistance. Her husband, she says, is now confined to his bed with white swelling in one of his limbs, and is unable to help her many ways. One week ago to-day two of her children died, and the woman, judging from her story, is in a sorry condition. She was sent to Mr. Fisher, where she no doubt was cured for.

The Gumption Trial.

Died.

Mrs. Vann Stoddard, proprietress of the Stokes House, died last night at half-past eight o'clock.

Gone to New York.

Mr. Charles Stuart, senior member of the popular dry goods firm of Stuart & Gholson, left the city yesterday, bound for New York and the finest stock of dry goods that Cairo has ever seen. Mr. Stuart's reputation as a close buyer is established. He left with the determination of laying in a stock of goods that will "lay over" anything that he has ever previously purchased, and he will be able to give his friends and the public better bargains in his line than ever before. New goods will be coming in the last of next week. Look out.

Disorderly.

Mrs. Cummings, a woman who keeps a little stand at the corner of Tenth street and Commercial avenue, complained to Judge Brown yesterday morning that a negro woman named Lizzie Howard was in the habit of raising a disturbance about her house whenever she got a chance, and wanted a stop put to it. A warrant was thereupon issued and Officer LaHue brought Lizzie up. She was fined five dollars and costs. Officer LaHue allowed the prisoner to go with the promise to pay as soon as she could, and also in consideration of a little child, which, were its mother to go to the lock-up, would have no one to look after it.

A Good Suggestion.

The suggestion sent us yesterday for publication by "Olin," in regard to a petition being presented to the city council, praying that certain conveniences for the benefit of very recently, is a good one, and would, no doubt, draw forth blessings from those in whom "Olin" seems to feel so much interest. Experience is the teacher that proves to us how unpleasant it is to work under difficulties, and we cannot help believing therefore that "Olin," while he no doubt feels and displays much interest in the happiness of his fellow-men, is also looking to his own convenience.

Remember!

That to-night the Arabs will celebrate their sixteenth anniversary at Scheel's Hall. Go!

Jealous.

MR. EDITOR—I am at a loss to know in what way some of our citizens happen to have their proceedings inserted in your valuable paper. The moment they leave town or return, or are in the slightest way indisposed, it is announced. I am really jealous at not being so favored. I long to see my name in print, as do several of my neighbors, but neither sickness nor death can effect a notice. You should be more general in conferring favors; all who subscribe for your paper are equally worthy your esteem in that respect. Why did you not mention several little parties given by our young folks, equally deserving as those you noticed. I hear grumbling all around and hasten to acquaint you. FAIR PLAY.

Accident to Ole Stanley.

Ole Stanley, the man who went to Capt. Sinsy's and called him up the night Sinsy was assassinated, met with a serious accident at the Pearce house in Vienna Tuesday night. He came to town and took a room at the above named house. He went to his room about 10 o'clock, and laid down on the bed with his clothes on. He fell asleep and to dreaming. What he was dreaming about will be understood when it is stated that he thought "they were after him," and jobbing his hand into his pocket for his revolver, got hold of the muzzle instead of the handle, and in the effort to get it out the hammer caught in his clothes, and was discharged, the ball striking him in the palm of the hand, passing through the thumb joint, into and through the wrist and about half way to the elbow, from whence it was extracted by Dr. Bratton. The wound is a very painful one and may result in the loss of Mr. Stanley's arm.

A Fine Stock.

Wm. Ehlers desires to inform his patrons and the public generally, that he has now on hand a large stock of French and German (alt. Klip and M. rocco, and is prepared to manufacture, for store and office wear, the finest of Morocco or Calf Skin Shoes or Boots; and for farmers, draymen and out door wear generally, his French Klip stands above anything ever offered in this market. His last is one of the latest styles and he can guarantee a fit and satisfaction to all his patrons. 8-3-1c

Fair Play.

In another place in this issue of the BULLETIN will be found a communication from "Fair Play," who, from the tenor of his remarks, infers that we are partial in our personalities. This is unkind of "Fair Play." We are ever ready and willing, in truth, anxious to mention, through the columns of the BULLETIN, the departure or arrival of any of our citizens, but we are not in many cases able to learn of their movements. "Fair Play" also chides us for not noting "several little parties given by our young folks, equally as deserving as those we have mentioned." We mentioned the parties referred to, not because we thought they were "more deserving," but simply for the reason that we knew when and where they were to take place. Those spoken of by "Fair Play," we knew nothing of, or mention would have been made of them. We would be pleased at any time to announce any private demonstrations of the kind referred to by "Fair Play," and will, if informed of them. If "Fair Play" thinks we are unjustly partial, and should like to have his name in print, let him enclose fifty cents in an envelope, send it to this office, and then shuffle off this mortal coil, and thus afford us an opportunity to prove how kindly we feel toward all mankind. We thank "Fair Play" for the interest he displays in informing us that he hears grumbling all around, and assure him that we shall watch that no movements which he may make hereafter shall escape us.

Jaackel.

Amandus Jaackel—what a name! and what beer he keeps—in kegs, you know. Sea breezes are good—but not as good as beer that foams and looks as solid as Amandus Jaackel's beer. Where is it from? It would require a hyphenated nomenclature as long as a German prince's Teutonic cognomen to tell. A generous and accommodating person would retire from one of Jaackel's kegs with only excessive emotion. It produced a nation of warriors, you know.

Too Many Drinks.

On Tuesday afternoon, a party of Eastern drummers, who, it would seem from their conversation, had not enjoyed the pleasure of each other's company for many days, arrived in this city, and after stowing away their traveling bags and other incumbrances, wended their way to a saloon on Commercial avenue for the purpose of talking over old times and having a good time generally. They took a drink all round, then they talked. They took another drink and sang a song. Then another drink was called for, and then one of the party, who seemed to be in a greater state of hilarity than his comrades, favored the boys with a song and dance. This was followed by a jig by another of the party, and was topped off with another drink. This routine, which no doubt was very amusing to the party, was kept up until about six o'clock in the evening, when two of the long-separated friends got into a fight, and were arrested and put into the lock-up. Officer LaHue had got but a little distance from the lock-up, when he heard yelling in the building and returned. He found the two drummers, who had been placed in the same cell, fighting like good fellows. The larger of the two seemed to have it all his own way, however, as he had his antagonist down upon his back, pummeling him unmercifully.

COMMERCIAL.

CAIRO, ILL., THURSDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 3, 1875.

The hot weather predictions for September will be verified, if the month continues as the first two days have been. Yesterday was apparently one of the hottest days of this season. We say apparently, because the thermometer did not mark so high a temperature as it has on other days, but the cool month that has just passed left us in a condition that makes this unexpected heat unusually oppressive. The dusty streets and lack of breeze make the heat of the sun at midday still more unendurable. The dullness that characterized the market at our last report still prevails, and prices are generally weak on leading commodities, although we are pleased to note some increase in the volume of sales. Flour is plenty, quiet and unchanged. Hay is plenty and dull—demand very small. Corn is plenty, dull and lower. Oats are overstocked and dull at 40¢ in bulk on track, and 45¢ sacked and delivered. Meal is plenty and no sale; the same may be said of bran. The stock of butter on hand is too large for the demand and is becoming damaged by the hot weather. Fresh eggs sell readily, but those on hand a day or two are neglected.

THE MARKET.

Our friends should bear in mind that the prices here given are usually for sales from first hands in round lots. In filling orders and for broken lots it is necessary to charge an advance over these figures.

FLOUR.

All grades are plenty and the market rises heavy and dull. Prices are unchanged but orders come in slowly and sellers would be compelled to make concessions to effect large sales. Transactions were limited to 100 barrels XX $5.50; 100 barrels $5.50; 176 barrels city $5.50; 600 barrels $5.50; 300 barrels $4.75.

HAY.

The market is overstocked and there is scarcely any demand at all. We note sales of 2 cars choice delivered $18; 1 car medium delivered $15.

CORN.

The market rises quiet and prices are weak and declining. The demand is very small at 56¢ lower than prices ruled a week ago. Sales were 1 car bulk mixed on track, 67¢; 1 car bulk white on track, 70¢; 1 car sacked mixed delivered, 75¢; 2 cars bulk white on track, 69¢; 2 cars bulk white on track, 70¢; 1 car mixed in sacks delivered, 73¢.

OATS.

There is a small demand at 45¢, with a full stock on the market. Sales were 2 cars white in sacks delivered, 45¢; 2 cars mixed in sacks delivered, 45¢.

MEAL.

The market is very dull, and oversupplied with country meal. We note a sale of 100 barrels country steam dried at $3.35.

BRAN.

A few cars are on the market, but there is no demand. Prices are held at $16 delivered. We have no sales to report.

BUTTER.

The market is a little overstocked for the hot weather, and stocks are soon damaged by the heat. Only fresh receipts are called for. We note sales of 300 pounds choice Northern 23¢; 2 tubs Northern 23¢; 2 tubs Southern 11¢; 2¢; 3 buckets Southern 11¢; 2¢; 400 pounds choice Northern 23¢; 150 pounds choice Southern 11¢; 21¢; 300 pounds choice Northern 23¢.

EGGS.

Fresh receipts sell on arrival at 12¢. Those on hand for a day or two are hard to sell. We note sales of 300 dozen 11¢; 200 dozen 12¢; 200 dozen fresh 12¢.

CHICKENS.

The market is well supplied and quiet. Small, young chickens are not wanted. We note sales of 1 coop old hens $3.25; 1 coop choice young $3.75; 2 coops old hens $3.00; 1 coop old hens $3.00; 1 coop young $3.00.

FRUIT.

Pear, peach and grapes, choice, are scarce and in demand. There were no grapes in the market to-day. We note sales of 150 boxes peaches 60¢; 40 boxes peaches 55¢; 20 baskets peaches 60¢/5c.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, ILLUSTRATED.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

The ever increasing circulation of this excellent monthly proves its continued adaptation to popular desires and needs. Indeed, when we think into how many homes it penetrates every month, we must consider it one of the educators as well as entertainers of the public mind, for its vast popularity has been won by no appeal to stupid prejudices or depraved tastes.—Boston Globe.
